Homework Guidelines for CHI 331

1. Please date your homework and write down the relevant page, section, and question numbers. If there are multiple pages to your assignment sheets, please also number and staple them.
2. Do not use pinyin in your homework in place of a character. Homework written with pinyin will have to be rewritten before we can give you credit for it.
3. Please do your homework neatly, and if you are doing a rewrite, recopy the entire relevant sentence correctly.
4. Homework turned in late will automatically get a √-
5. Rewrites must be done promptly. Rewrites of Monday through Thursday homework must be turned in by Friday. Rewrites of the Friday homework may be turned in the following Monday. It is your responsibility to make sure that the relevant instructor receives your rewrites.
6. This form is available online at Pioneer Web under “Course Information,” together with the monthly schedule and information on how to prepare for class.

Chinese Lab

The Chinese Department still offers Chinese Lab from 8-10 p.m., Sunday-Thursday, in ARH 317. You are encouraged to visit the lab tutors (native speakers of Chinese) for help with your assignment and help with practicing Chinese. Please note that they will not do your assignment for you, but will provide appropriate help. Please make sure to write down your name and the content of the tutoring session on the sign-up sheet each time.

Chinese Table

A weekly Chinese Table takes place every Thursday at lunchtime in Room 224 A in the Joe Rosenfield Center. This semester it will start on September 3, Thursday. Please mark your calendar and come for friendly conversation with your fellow Chinese learners, instructors, and native speakers. Regular attendance at Chinese Table can earn you extra credit.
